Welcome to our Third Annual Fallborn sale for Boyert/Core and Jake Bloomberg. All cattle are located in Pleasantville, IA and if your in the area please stop in to see us, or give us a call and we can discuss them with you to the best of our ability. We welcome everyone!

I have always said that a good fall born that is kept fresh and presented right is one of the hardest things to beat at a Junior National, that is the reason my brothers and I have committed to raising them and gathering some up from our friends. This past year two heifers out of our first sale were selected Champion Composite female at Charolais Junior Nationals and also Reserve Foundation Simmental at Simmental Junior Nationals. We are very proud to be apart of our customers success but honestly they deserve all the credit for the hard work you put into making these females look the way they do.

The show cattle business is something we all love to do, the partnerships and friends we have made along the way only grow our family each year. We think of it as a team, there is nothing more rewarding then going to a show and helping several customers and everyone pitches in to get the job done. Our slogan is "Committed to the Experience" and we want your kids to get the same opportunities we had growing up.

Thanks again for your time, give one of us a call about the cattle, we think this is a stout set from top to bottom.

Retaining in-herd use only!

My brothers and I have been trying to put together a set of bulls we can turn out on our cows and also promote through semen sales. This bull fits the bill and to be honest of any calf we have raised probably excites us the most. This bull has a lot of potential to make it big time, he has everything that the Who da Mans are known for, good looking, hairy, big boned, and extension. On the bottom side he gets the extra function, body, and practical build from Tammy. The day this bull collects semen I will be breeding cows ASAP, he is high enough percentage chi that all calves will be registerable.

When we made a quick trip to South Dakota this heifer was a must load, and since she has been in Pleasantville she has done everything I thought she would. If you want a long term show heifer and senior yearling that can contend at Junior Nationals or just looking to purchase a cornerstone cow, don't pump the breaks just keep bidding.

This one was raised in Iowa, I purchased embryos from Effling and Garwood out of this cow. Firefly is the reason I have Charolais, I fell in love with the cattle the year I judged in Denver. The day this one hit the picture pen... Hello Kitty. Big time potential and will play hard in the division.

Lot 4's mother is a full sib to the Skiles heifer that topped our sale in 2015 and was named Reserve Champion Female at the NWSS. This is a natural calf out of Outkast and after the set of falls we raised out of him, he will get heavy use again. Although this heifer is a bit younger, I think has all the right pieces and parts. I am a big fan of her structure and build and yet she is still powerful.

This is another one that I like. Lots 5, 6 and 7 are all full sisters to Arthur's heifer that one quite a bit last fall. Full sisters to this mating averaged $36,000 in Bucks sale two years ago. All of these heifers have shucked their belly hair so they're not going to look like they have as much rib and body compared to some others. Jirl told me the same thing about Arthur's as a baby and she was the biggest bodied charolais I have seen. Lot 5 is awesome looking good on her feet and legs and has the presence to make a lasting impact in the ring.

Full sister to Lots 5, 6 & 7.

Another sister we like a great deal, these heifers are impressive for the amount of power they have and yet they are still awesome at the ground. Her and I think are the right kind to sit on and bring out as senior yearlings.

I was having a good conversation with a friend of mine that sells cattle the other day about how its so hard to sell the just really solid complete ones that have no holes but maybe not all the extras. Growing up these were the kind of cattle we would buy and then just put a little extra elbow grease into them. There structure and function always kept us competitive just like this heifer will.

Kim and Zach Schwecke raised this heifer, her full sister sold on the sale last year to the Stahl family from Illinois and she has had a nice run being division champion at Louisville, Kansas City, and Denver. This heifer is everything her sister is and longer and skinnier necked. This one is a little greener but has as much upside potential as any. Zach you should give up on the pigs, because when Kim raises Charolais like this you won't need to raise pigs for a living.

These Outsider daughters make some incredible cows, don't be afraid to pick a few of these off to make breds with, as a group of first calf heifers they don't get any nicer uddered or better looking with calves at their side. Good strutted and built nice.

With the weather and all the Beef Expos I was way behind on my falls, I think this one's picture isn't going to blow you away but I got her head done and she was still sore from breaking that her ears are down. I do think this heifers hip and hind leg is ideal for where I want to be in the Charolais breed. If you make this one better necked she is priceless. COW! COW!

S: TR Outkast 6605D | D: Monopoly

Again a really good Outkast female. I told Grant Weisinger he needed to try him on a few of his Monopoly cows. This heifer has grown on me a lot since she has been here. A few years ago we sold one to the Elder family that did a lot of winning, she reminds me a lot of her. She is a gray baldy and it doesn't get much cooler than that. She can compete at junior nationals as a calf.

HIGH CHI | September 15, 2018

One of the most impressive baby calves I have been around, This is a result of an embryo purchase Grant made on our online embryo sale. I'd say this one will pay for herself over and over. She is a full sib to the Lot 1 bull and a maternal sib to other countless high sellers.

We picked this heifer up from our good friends the Redalens in Minnesota. I hesitate to give out where she came from because once people see her they will all want to go up there and look at calves. But, you can't find better a family then them, and they deserve the credit for raising such an incredible female. This proves that Brokers are still some of the best cattle and I dont care what their numbers are like. This heifer is as wide and stout as you can make them and still has that perfect running gear to make her a competitive bred. I am a huge fan!

Luke Doris called Jake and said he found a really good Purebred Simmy heifer. She was the whole reason I got Jake to ride with me to South Dakota. This one was well worth the trip I can guarentee that. Huge feet and legs, perfect built, and as good looking as they come. She will get a wide variety of people fired up to show a Purebred Simmental. I am a huge fan of these Profits.

While I was fixing our flat tire Jake went through the back pen and found this female. She is a full sib to lot 14, a little younger and a little behind but the same kind of look, power, and build. I know she's a little tougher to look at with all the rub marks but it's been a tough year for that. Take her home, shear her off and get her rolling for Junior Nationals.

The Hoge family showed this one's mother a few years back and did quite a bit of winning. Her grandmother is Tammy that we have built our program around. This heifer was raised by my brothers in Ohio. We felt Quantum Leap would be the perfect mating for this female and boy did it work. When I called home early winter and asked how the falls look all they talked about was this female. This is the kind of female that I get fired up about, good spined, huge bellied and a great hind leg with good feet. Be sure to check out the full sib embryos on the sale.

This Excutive Order took awhile to get on the trailer when we found her and after standing in the snow, ice, and cold we almost gave up. I'm sure glad we finally got her on. When this one hit the picture pen she got me amped up for the fall born sale. Look, balance, strucutre, and rib. I am a big fan of this one. Again, raised by the Redalan family, she reminds me of the Tailgater Sullivan's bought that was Reserve at Junior Nationals lastSummer.

This female is the natural calf out of Kennedy's Supreme Champion female at Kansas City and Louisville. That cow has done a great job and the calves we have out of her this year so far look promising. This female has no holes, good structured, good necked, and big bellied, she can also be registered MaineTainer.
