We Have You Covered!

Drury Cattle Ranch (DCR Wagyu) is a family owned and operated business in SW Missouri. The family's roots started in the agriculture industry with their father, Jerry, growing up and working on his family farm learning his way around cattle and crops. Later in life, Jerry helped start, took over, and grew his commercial construction company in SE Missouri ... never forgetting about his passion for cattle and farming. He instilled into his family the value of hard work, vision, and passion with what you do in life. After 2008, the Drury's looked for ways to diversify their businesses and new avenues for utilizing their farms. This research led them to discover the Wagyu breed. The differences of Wagyu cattle were very attractive from the start ... calving ease, temperament, fertility, and segment growth potential. They then looked into the end product to truly understand all of the Wagyu qualities. The family had a taste-off by ordering Wagyu steaks and finding the best Angus steaks in their market. After seasoning and cooking the beef with the same methods, the tasting told them everything else they needed to know ... the two options were night-and-day different. The Wagyu steaks were far superior in flavor, texture, tenderness, and eat-ability. The Drury's recognized how special this breed can be and jumped into the Wagyu industry with both feet.

The Drury family has now combined their business and agriculture acumen to form and run two growing companies ... Drury Cattle Ranch for Wagyu seedstock cattle and Papa Valley Wagyu for beef sales. These businesses are operated by Jerry's sons Bryan and Patrick, grandson Brent, and longtime employee who is just like family Travis Daniels. Combining specific genetics to create top quality Wagyu cattle for better breeding decisions is the focus for Drury Cattle Ranch. DCR Wagyu produces Fullblood Black Wagyu cattle, Fullblood Red Wagyu (Akaushi) cattle, Fullblood Wagyu genetics, and F1 cattle (Wagyu/Angus cross). Papa Valley Wagyu takes the cattle all the way to the box providing elite Wagyu beef to restaurants and individual consumers. They provide two superior tasting beef lines ... Wagyu crossbred beef as well as Fullblood Wagyu beef. Both businesses look to further develop and expand Wagyu opportunities to spread the word about this exciting and extraordinary breed.

This combination of these embryos will not only give you the best framed cattle and carcass weights but it will also give you consistently high marbling.

HW Aizatziriko 7 and Carra are coming from the best genetics Wagyu have to offer. Here we have a great mix of the three major bloodlines, Tajima, Fujiyoshi and Kedaka. Aizatziriko 7's sire who we call Dutch has given us some of our best breeding females that milk well with good udders and extremely feminine so a great maternal line, his sire, Hirashigetayasu J2351 brings excellent growth and a balanced frame. Another name to mention in her breeding is Kitateruyasu Doi J2810, he is also known as a bigger framed marbling sire and one of the most highly acclaimed Wagyu to be imported from Japan. He is also in the top 2% for birth weight. Another big name in her bloodlines is Dai 7 Itozakura who is the most prominent Fujiyoshi sire in Japan.

HW Carra also has the top marbling genetics in his bloodlines, he consistently produces 9+ marbling score which is the highest marbling score outside of Japan. Coming from Fukutsuru 068, TF146 Kikutsurudo. We believe the best carcasses that Highland Wagyu are producing are all coming from Kinu. (DNA profiles available).

Legendary's intense selection to maintain foundation genetics without sacrificing quality is represented in this outstanding sire prospect. Not only does 2078F's uniquely combine balance and stoutness, but what may be even more impressive is the genetic power packed into this guy's pedigree. His dam, Nikki S1029P, is the epitome of cow power and performance. While his sire Umemaru has been responsible for producing the undefeated National Champion bull in Denver as well as Houston in 2018.
